

Andrew Noble President's Report

December 2012

Federation of Students
University of Waterloo

Executive Summary

Happy December,

This is an extremely busy time right now. I don't like to complain about a lack of time but there is a tremendous amount going on. Current key events include:

- strategic planning going on at the University level where many exciting initiatives are being discussed,
- First Year Council progress,
- New Student Building Negotiating,
- New Student Building consultation, (more info at feds.ca)
- Orientation Week Assessment and Review to create a new governance structure within O-week which is more student-driven,
- Strategic Planning of Feds,
- Town & Gown Strategic Planning,
- SSAC and URSC committee work,
- and lots more.

Unfortunately I don't have the time to complete my report right now but I will try to finish it over the weekend. In my November report I updated all my progress on action items from my responsibilities within our Feds Action Plan 2012-2013. I believe this quick report may be all that you have time for as well as exam season can be quite hectic as well. I wish you all the best of luck on your exams.

Sincerely,

Andrew
